Cookeville, "Poly". More schools, better schools. Larger city, better citizens. All abroad for prosperity.

Business of all kinds is good in the whole country. 1916 promises to be a record maker in way of American prosperity.

United States District Judge McCaleb of Memphis has rendered an opinion under which it is probable that the wholesale liquor dealers in Tennessee will have to quit business. He holds that when liquor is shipped into the state it becomes subject to the state laws.

The supreme court of the United States has decided that the income tax is valid in all particulars. This is a great victory for Congressman Cordell Hull, who was author of the law. It is his opinion that the law should be amended so as to produce a larger increase of revenue.

The Herald urges every farmer, young or old, of Putnam and adjoining counties to attend the Short Course in Agriculture to be held in Cookeville on Feb. 7 to 12. The course is given by the state at considerable expense, being one of the few benefits offered directly to the farmers. Make arrangements to attend every day.

Cookeville needs some sort of an organization of business men to actively look after certain matters looking to the welfare of the city. Its growth is assured, and some organization should be ready to assist in furnishing information to those who may desire to locate here, and the securing of new industries. We suggest that Mayor Holladay call a meeting of our business men to consider the question.

The contract for erecting the buildings of the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute has been let, and work will begin as soon as the weather permits. The completion of the plant and opening of this school will be the greatest event in the history of Cookeville. It means that those who desire may secure a liberal and practical education without costing a dollar for tuition, the state generously providing this free.

WACO, TEXAS

This is another year that is to close in only a short while, which we are all proud of while we can glorify the beauties of the past. But I want to add to a few little thoughts that will awaken my friends and give courage to all. Now you will find me hunting out Courage which the world most admires. It is the symbol of honor, glory and renown. It raises its strong arms against tyranny, and its magic touch transforms the serf into the freeholder and men into Gods. It raises the silken flag of honor above the din of battle and flashes a million sabres in the sunshine out of the many shadows; it causes men to brave the mountains of ice and snow and the hardships of an arctic sea; bear the heat of a tropical sun, or face the fevers and wild beasts of the jungle, in their search for that which enriches mankind. It takes the miner into the bowels of the earth, or carries him to the highest peaks, in quest of the precious metals, that trade may be

Everybody Sees Change in Father

Farmer Suffered Over 20 Years And Paid Out Thousands Trying to Get Well

"My father has suffered from chronic stomach trouble for over twenty years and has paid out thousands of dollars on medicines and doctors," said G. W. Slayton, a well known Cobb county farmer who lives near Smyrna, a short distance out of Atlanta.

"We tried nearly everything trying to cure him, and he went off to the springs, thinking maybe the water would help him, but it just looked like nothing would reach his trouble. Then he tried dieting, and living on liquid food until he almost starved, but even that failed to do him any good, and he just kept going from bad to worse.

"I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his, and if there ever was a confirmed dyspeptic he was one of them, and I guess he would have been one yet if it hadn't been for this Tanlac.

"The first we heard of this medicine was when my father saw an advertisement in the papers from parties he knew in Tennessee, who were friends of his, and he knew what they said about it was the truth, so he got it right away and began taking it.

"Well, sir, it acted just like magic, and everybody notices the change in father now, why, he is just like a different man, and sits down to the table and eats like a farm hand. Only yesterday, he ate pork and turnips for his dinner, and ate so much we were actually afraid he was overdoing the thing, but he laughed and said nothing hurt him now, and that he was hungry and expected to eat and make up for lost time.

"Now, when a medicine will do things like that, I think people ought to know about it, and I want to say right now that I would not give one bottle of Tanlac for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together."

Tanlac is sold in Cookeville exclusively by Wyley Drug Co.
